ELECTRONICS IS OUR BUSINESS

The Electronics Group, formerly Electronics Yorkshire, has been instrumental in raising the standards of the electronics industry since 2003; through IPC licensed training, apprenticeships and commercial testing at the UK's largest electronics training centre.

As industry specialists, backed by years of experience, we can offer a specialist electronics recruitment service that can pinpoint the right candidates when you're recruiting.

As the UK's only recruitment partner that deals exclusively in electronics, we can save you time and expense.

WE'LL TAILOR OUR SERVICE FOR YOU

No matter what volume of staff you require, we can place candidates at a level to suit your needs.

At your request, fully-qualified permanent candidates can be pre-assessed by our highly experienced team. Or, if it's a number of temps you need, we're on hand to train them to meet your required standards.
